Distinguished Interdisciplinary Team Research Award

The CFAES Office for Research and Graduate Education are requesting nominations for the CFAES Distinguished Interdisciplinary Team Research Award. The College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences (CFAES) translates cutting edge research to stakeholders across the state. By engaging with our stakeholders, we provide research, technology, and knowledge to support safe, sustainable, and viable agricultural practices across Ohio and the world. This important work could not be accomplished without outstanding researchers working on projects across the college.

The awardee will be selected based on their active research projects accomplishments and impact made between 2018-2022.

• Distinguished Interdisciplinary Team Research Award

The Distinguished Interdisciplinary Team Research Award is intended to recognize a group of CFAES researchers working collaboratively toward a specific scientific goal and have succeeded in gaining major external resources and are nationally and internationally recognized for their collaborative research. To be recognized as interdisciplinary research, projects or programs must have a team leader from a CFAES academic unit and have at least one team member from another academic unit within CFAES or from another college.

A plaque and check for $1,000 will be presented to each CFAES team member, not to exceed $10,000 total for the team, and a one-time allocation of $6,000 will be made available to the team for support of team activities.
